

Travel Confirmation Notice –

For customers who intend travelling internationally with an expired Irish Residence Permit (IRP) card during the period 09 December 2022 and 31 January 2023

To whom it may concern,

The Irish Minister for Justice has put a temporary arrangement in place to permit non-nationals legally resident in Ireland travelling internationally between 09 December 2022 and 31 January 2023.

From 09 December 2022, non-nationals living in Ireland with an Irish Residence Permit (IRP) card that has recently expired may use this expired IRP card as proof of their entitlement to re-enter the State until 31 January 2023.

These individuals should be allowed to travel on the expired IRP card where an application to renew was submitted in advance of the expiry date. A receipt of application which details the date of application and OREG number will provide proof that they have applied to renew their registration prior to their current IRP card expiring.

If, however, their current permission expired prior to submitting an application for renewal, they are considered out of permission and this notice will not apply.

Passengers with a single entry visa and a prior landing stamp, will require a re-entry visa to travel back to Ireland. Passengers with a valid in-date multi-entry visa are cleared to travel.

Customers intending to travel under these arrangements should print this notice and present it, along with their expired IRP card, and proof of renewal application to immigration authorities and airline carriers, as requested.

Further details on these arrangements can be found on the Department of Justice's Irish Immigration website (www.irishimmigration.ie).
